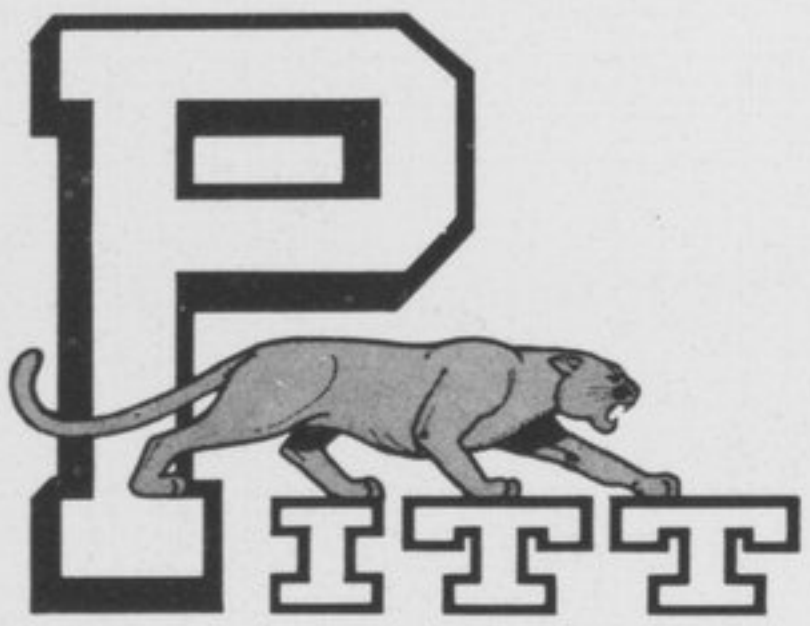
Why Panthers?



The Panther (felis concolor) was adopted as the University of Pittsburgh's mascot at a meeting of student and alumni leaders in the early autumn of 1909. According to George M. P. Baird, '09, who made the suggestion, it was chosen for the following reasons: (1) the Panther was the most formidable creature once indigenous to the Pittsburgh region; (2) it had ancient, heraldic standing as a noble animal; (3) the happy accident of alliteration; (4) the close approximation of its hue to the old gold of the University's colors (old gold and blue), hence its easy adaptability in decoration; and (5) the fact that no other college or university then employed it as a symbol.

ON THE COVER of Pitt's 1979 football media guide is two-time All-America defensive end HUGH GREEN (99). Green is shown lowering the boom on North Carolina quarterback Clyde Christensen in last year's game.

Chancellor

When Dr. Posvar was named Chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh in June, 1967, the University already boasted a treasured academic and athletic tradition.

In his twelve years as Chancellor, Dr. Posvar has further enhanced the University's national and international reputation — both academically and athletically.

In the same symbolic manner in which the Cathedral of Learning stands tall against the graceful Oakland skyline, Pitt excells as an athletic power. In 1976, the Pitt football team won the National Championship becoming the fifth all-time leader in National Collegiate Football Championships. Attesting to its academic excellence the University is a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), a select organization of the nation's most respected graduate and research universities. Both of these achievements underscore the University's continuing quest for excellence in both academics and athletics.

A former college athlete who believes a strong athletic program should complement a high quality academic experience, Dr. Posvar has earned the reputation as "Pitt's #1 Sports Fan."

Born in Topeka, Kansas, Dr. Posvar is an engineering graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, graduating first in his class. A Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, he earned Masters Degrees in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics. At Harvard, he received an M. A. in Public Administration, and a Ph.D. in Political Science. He was named one of the Ten Most Outstanding Young Men by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Posvar served on the strategic planning staff at the Pentagon, and was head of the 120-man social sciences division at the United States Air Force Academy before his appointment as Chancellor.

Dr. Posvar has also accumulated several athletic awards, among them "Sportsman of the Year" by the Allegheny County Civic Sportsmen Association, and was the recipient of the Contribution to Amateur Athletics Award by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

His wife sings professionally as Mildred Miller, a mezzo-soprano who is internationally acclaimed as a recording artist and Leider singer. An active civic leader, she is the founder and Artistic Director of the Pittsburgh Chamber Opera Theater — the touring and educational adjunct of the Pittsburgh Opera.

The Posvars have three children: Wesley, Jr., Marina and Lisa.

Casimir J. Myslinski

Director of Athletics

Since he was named Director of Athletics by Chancellor Posvar in 1968, Cas Myslinski has thoroughly and at times spectacularly, restructured the University of Pittsburgh's Athletic Department.

Forceful, yet quiet, Myslinski has sparkled as the administrative man behind the scene, setting the policy and choosing the priorities that have led to the dramatic athletic turn-around. He promised to bring the Pitt athletic teams back to "the heights they deserve" when he was hired, and the winning figures say he has fulfilled that pledge.

Panther athletic teams have recorded ten consecutive winning years since Myslinski's arrival, registering a .617 winning percentage in the process.

The winning has been highlighted by five football bowl trips, a national football championship, two basketball tournament teams and 36-All-Americas.

Myslinski has also been a leader in implementing a dynamic women's program at the University, which continues to be one of the fastest growing and most successful in the nation. In five years, the women have won over 73 per cent of their competition.

One of his first achievements as Director of Athletics was uniting several contributing bodies to the athletic program into one, founding the now thriving Pitt Golden Panthers Booster Club. The Club raised over $400,000 this past year.

After an accelerated three-year high school curriculum, he entered West Point in September of 1941 as part of the last pre-World War II class. He again undertook an accelerated academic program because of the war and in that stepped-up program graduated in three years with a B.S. in engineering. He also earned pilot wings. Later he received a Masters in Education from Teachers College, Columbia University.

At West Point, he distinguished himself on the football field. He captained the 1943 Army team and was voted the Most Valuable Player that year. He was named to every first team All-America Squad at center and garnered the Knute Rockne Award as the Nation's Outstanding Lineman.

Following West Point graduation in 1944 he entered the Air Force.

In 1952 he returned to West Point as Deputy Head of the Department of Physical Education and moved from there in 1956 to head the Department of Physical Education at the United States Air Force Academy and to be an assistant football coach under Buck Shaw (1957).

Then Dr. Posvar summoned him to Pitt.

Married, his wife's name is Sandy, They have four children: Linda (Mrs. John Baginski), Michael (wife — Loraine Sujdak), Dorothy (Mrs. Brian Gracey), and Patricia (Mrs. George Jacoby). Patricia is the mother of the two Myslinski grandchildren, Brandon and Brooke.

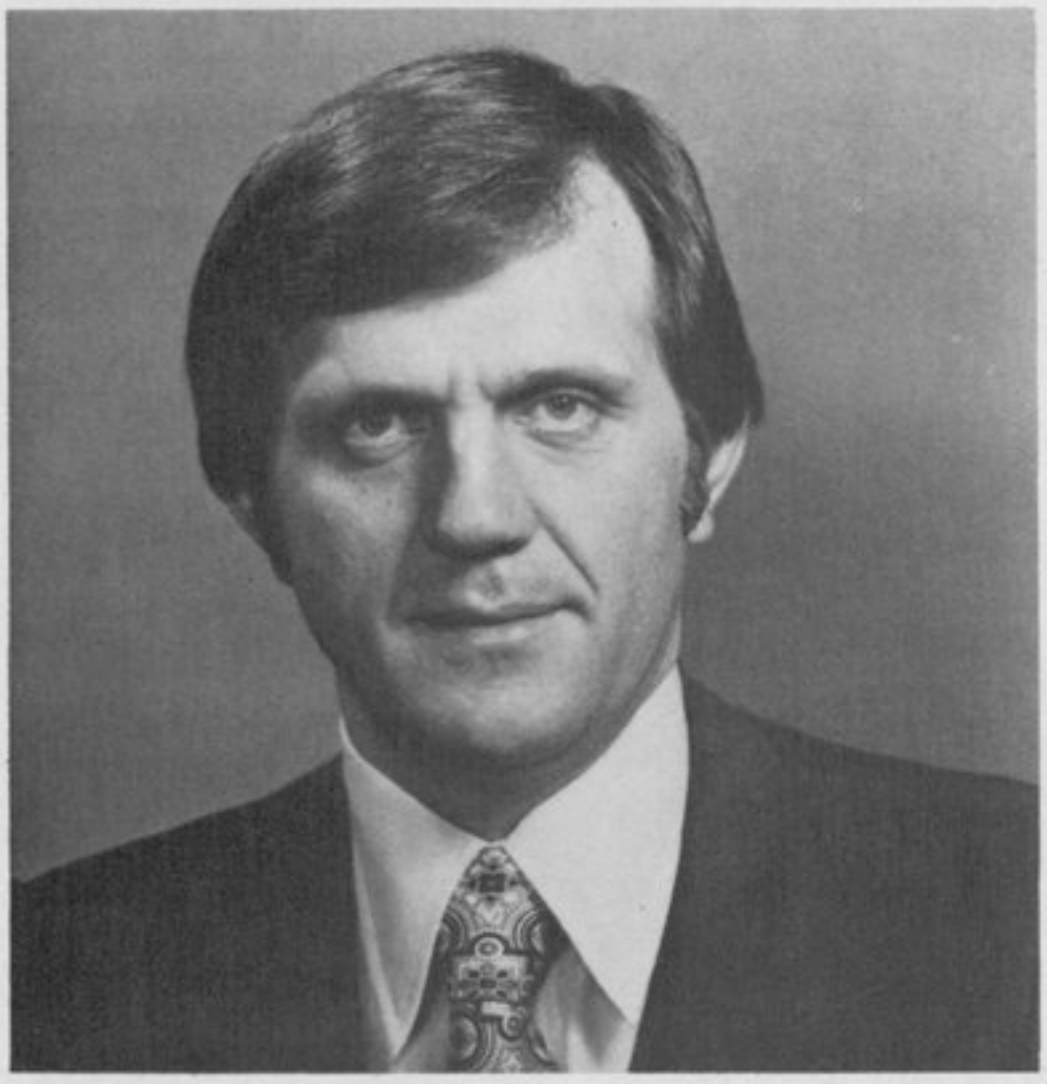
Pitt Head Football Coach

Jackie Sherrill



The man has had phenomenal success with football.

At every level, up the ladder, the result has been the same. He has been a big winner.

In high school he was an All-America. At college, he played vital roles on teams that won National Championships in 1964 and 1965 and made trips to no less than three major bowls.

And since turning to coaching a dozen years ago, the teams Jackie Sherrill worked for have gone to bowl games eight times.

A ringing testimonial to his success is this fact: since Jackie Sherrill first stepped on the Biloxi High School football field as a freshman to last year's Tangerine Bowl game against North Carolina State, his combined won/loss record as a player and coach is a remarkable 158-73-5. That's a truly fine winning percentage of .669.

It's no wonder — with that kind of background — that after only three years as a head football coach, Sherrill is one of the top young coaches in all of college football.

After two seasons at Pitt, Sherrill has passed all the tests. Not only did he sustain the growth of the Pitt program after a National Championship season, but he has established himself as Pitt's winningest first two-year coach.

Sherrill shows a 17-6-1 record at Pitt in his first two seasons. No other coach, and there have been some biggies in the school's glorious history, has ever won as many games in his first two years — the sacred Pop Warner won 14, the fabled Jock Sutherland won 13, the storied John Majors registered 13 wins.

Last season, Sherrill took a sophomore-laden team to an 8-4 record and a Tangerine Bowl bid. That followed his inaugural 1977 performance which produced a 9-2-1 record, a Gator Bowl win, and a 7th ranking in the polls.

For a guy who took on a pressure-packed job under volatile circumstances, he did fine work.

It was December of 1976 . . .

The Pitt football team was 11-0, ranked number one in the country by the wire services and had a date with destiny pending. The Panthers were to play Georgia in the Sugar Bowl for the National Championship.

It was under these circumstances that Johnny Majors announced he was going to coach at Tennessee. And it was under the same tough situation that Sherrill was called upon to sustain the program he helped Majors build as his assistant head coach.

But, Sherrill has been cool under pressure. He has delivered.

Along with the 17-6-1 record, Sherrill has guided Pitt to bowls each of his two seasons. In his association with Pitt as Assistant Head Coach and Defensive Coordinator (1973-75) and Head Coach (1977-79), Sherrill has been to four bowl games with the Panthers — Fiesta Bowl, 1973; Sun Bowl, 1975, Gator Bowl, 1977; and the Tangerine Bowl, 1978.

In all, Sherrill has been to 11 bowls as a player and coach.

He was an All-America and All-Stater at Biloxi High School and his picture hangs in the School's Hall of Fame. He enrolled at Alabama and was a three-year letterman and played seven positions for Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide. At Alabama he played with Joe Namath, Steve Sloan, and Ken Stabler, and was a member of the 1964 and 1965 National Championship teams. He played in the 1964 and 1965 Sugar Bowls and captained the 1966 Orange Bowl victory over Nebraska (29-28) which enabled the Tide to win the National Championship.

Following his Alabama graduation, Sherrill served one year as graduate assistant and worked with the freshmen and the varsity linebackers under Bryant. He then moved with Frank Broyles at Arkansas in 1967 and worked with the defense and with the secondary in 1968. He joined Majors at Iowa State in the 1968 off-season and two years later was promoted to Assistant Head Coach and Defensive Coordinator. He followed Majors to Pitt in 1973 as an Assistant Head Coach and Defensive Coordinator.

Sherrill has served under three legendary head coaches as an assistant — Bryant, Frank Broyles and Johnny Majors. Those are not just coaching names, but three of the big ones in the college coaching profession.

After the 1975 season, Sherrill left Pitt to become head coach at Washington State. There, Sherrill did much to re-establish a floundering program in the tough Pacific Eight Conference. Sherrill gained the reputation as one of the brightest young coaches on the West Coast in just one year.

Then came his return to Pitt.

Along with the pursuit of his coaching interests. Sherrill has taken a deep-rooted interest in the city that he now happily calls home — Pittsburgh.

He says Pittsburgh is part of him now and his involvement in the community attests to that.

He is on the Board of Directors of the Leukemia Society of Pittsburgh and has worked on fund raising campaigns for WQED-TV (educational TV), the Civic Light Opera and the United Way.

His love of children makes him a constant visitor at Pittsburgh Children's Hospital, which is only one block from his office in Pitt Stadium. Also a Shriner, Sherrill toured the Shriner crippled children hospitals across the country in 1977.

A masterful recruiter who was mainly responsible for luring Tony Dorsett to Pitt, Sherrill directed a staff of assistants that has brought Pitt two promising corps of freshmen the last two years. He has sprinkled these newcomers with the tested veterans to register that 17-6-1 record.

Sherrill performed a remarkable feat in taking the 1978 Panthers to an 8-4 record. At times, as many as five sophomores started defensively and as many as four on offense including the quarterback.

The second teams on both units were also dominated by sophomores. Sherrill had only 10 experienced seniors available when the season started and even fewer juniors. What Sherrill has as a result is a young team — a very experienced young team.

Things look good for the Panthers in the immediate future.

"It hasn't been easy," he says. "There was a lot of pressure on me and my staff. What we have done the last two years has taken some of the pressure off.

"Though we haven't achieved the ultimate — winning the National Championship — it has been pleasing."

Phenomenal might be a better word!

1979 Outlook

The Panthers ... A Team To Watch

"Oh yes," Pitt head football coach Jackie Sherrill assured, nodding his head and pointing his pen for emphasis, "it looks like we're going to have a very good football team in 1979."

While Sherrill is an optimistic person by nature — and why shouldn't he be, just about every team he's been associated with has been a big winner — a look at the facts substantiates his feeling. He's not pipe-dreaming.

"I know we will still be a young football team by normal standards. But all those young kids have two good years of experience under their belts. We will be a fun team to watch . . . I think we'll be a team to watch, period." Sherrill asserted.

For the record, Sherrill returns 43 lettermen. Of those, 13 were starters last season. Throw in a couple of experienced kickers and a wealth of experience on the bench and you have the makings of a Top 10 team.

"I believe we will be a Top 10 team," Sherrill said. "We're anxious to resume our role among the top teams in college football.

"Look at the record," he directed. "That's where we belong."

The record bears Sherrill out.

During the last four years, Pitt has registered a 29-6-1 record. Only four other major college teams have done better during that same period: Alabama (31-5), Oklahoma (30-5-1), Southern Cal (31-6), and Michigan (30-6) . . . now those are pretty prestigious college football names. Pitt belongs right with them.

Last season Pitt was clearly a sophomore team. Sherrill had only nine senior lettermen on hand and only 10 juniors who had seen considerable action. The team was sophomore-laden.

But this was no ordinary sophomore class. After the 1976 National Championship season, Sherrill orchestrated a magnificent recruiting campaign that experts rated among the top five in the country. That was the caliber of the sophomore class and that is the mettle of which the 1979 team is made. Those sophomores are juniors now.

That team went 8-4 in 1978 and made the trip to the Tangerine Bowl — the team's fourth consecutive bowl trip and the fifth in six years.

Though only 14 lettermen graduated (nine starters), top-notch talent will have to be replaced — like Gordon Jones, the best receiver in Pitt history; dependable tight end Steve Gaustad; starting center Walt Brown; All-America guard Matt Carroll on offense; and linebacker Al Chesley, strong safety Jeff Delaney, middle guard Dave Logan, defensive end Dave DiCiccio, and safety Mike Balzer on the defense.

"Sure," Sherrill said, "like every football team, we have some holes to fill. But we really got after it in Spring practice and took a long look at a lot of our younger players.

"We added some new wrinkles in our offensive scheme and I think the new faces on the coaching staff blended in very nicely."

In the Spring, Sherrill's offensive wrinkles included a multiple pro and I formation look, which are designed to "expand" the offense.

"Offensively, we want to put our hats on some people and move them back from the line of scrimmage. We want to control the line of scrimmage and the inside running game. We want to enlarge the scope of the offense and play with more reckless abandon. We got a leg up on all these things in Spring practice. I was pleased."

Going into Spring practice, Sherrill had a "work priority list" that demanded attention. In order of priority, the list read: receivers, quarterbacks, the offensive line and the running backs.

Coming out of the drills, Sherrill was satisfied with the work done in each area.

"I came away from the Spring, thinking we have all the ingredients to be a top team. We have a chance. I think people will have to take notice of Pitt football as the season takes its course."

Breakdown by Positions

Receivers

The Panthers have five lettermen returning at the receiver positions, including part-time starters Ralph Still (Sr., 6-1, 182) and Clifford Moore (Sr., 5-10, 180), reserve flanker Willie Collier (Sr., 5-10, 170), back-up tight end Benjie Pryor (Jr., 6-5, 230) and Larry Sims (Sr., 5-10, 180), who was switched to flanker from his former running back position. Still caught 12 passes for 149 yards, Sims snagged 13 passes for 121 yards, Pryor caught eight for 63 yards, Collier eight for 165 yards and Moore pulled in three passes for 33 yards. Add a slew of fine sounding recruits to this corps and the coaches feel they have maneuverable personnel at the receiver positions.

Backs

In Rick Trocano (Jr., 6-1, 197) the Panthers have a fine, experienced quarterback. Trocano passed for 1,648 yards last season — the fourth highest single season yardage mark in Pitt history — completing 138 of 283 tosses (a .488 percentage) and five touchdowns. He also rushed for 268 yards and seven TDs. He ranked 33rd in the nation — between Rick Leach and Chuck Fusina — in total offense. Behind Trocano is Danny Daniels (Fr., 6-3, 187), who was redshirted as a freshman and Scott Jenner (Sr., 6-2, 196), who saw limited action last year. Also figuring in the quarterback picture is at least one recruit, Dan Marino, the highly sought-after star from Central Catholic High School.

At running back, Sherrill returns five lettermen, including Freddy Jacobs (Sr., 5-10, 183), Rooster Jones (Jr., 5-10, 180), Artrell Hawkins (Jr., 5-10, 175), Russell Carter (So., 6-2, 200) and Steve Harris (Sr., 6-1, 205). Jacobs rushed for 634 yards (a 4.2 average) and nine touchdowns in 1978 to lead the team in rushing and was closely followed by Jones, who gained 617 yards (a 4.1 average) and five TDs. Carter and Harris carried the ball sparingly last year, and Hawkins returns to the team after sitting out a year. He lettered two seasons ago. Larry Sims, last year's third leading rusher, was switched to flanker. At the fullback slot, consideration will have to be given to JC transfer (North Harford JC in Maryland) Randy McMillan (Jr., 6-2, 225), who led the junior colleges last year in rushing (1,589) and scoring (20 touchdowns). McMillan entered school in January and participated in Spring drills, where he was tabbed "The Big Mac Attack." He could very well be the big back the Panthers have been looking for.

Offensive Line

Seven lettermen return on the offensive line. Mark May (Jr., 6-5, 280), Bob Gruber (Sr., 6-5, 255), and Ed Gallagher (Sr., 6-6, 265) all started at one time or another last year at tackle. Dan Fidler (Sr., 6-1, 250) started opposite All-America Matt Carroll at guard and did commendable work. Emil Boures (So., 6-3, 260), Jim Morsillo (Sr., 6-0, 239) and Scott Hartman (Sr., 6-2, 224) all saw action at guard. Kurt Brechbill was moved to the defensive line. At center, Russ Grimm (Jr., 6-3, 232) and Rocky DeStefano (Sr., 6-3, 239) will battle it out for the starting job. Both saw action at center last year in back-up roles. With some highly touted recruits coming in, the coaches feel the offensive line is where the newcomers can make the biggest impact.

Defensive Line

Sherrill feels the Panthers are very strong at defensive end and a look at the personnel is reassuring. First there is two-time All-America Hugh Green (Jr., 6-2, 215), who is simply one of the best players in the country. Green had 95 tackles (66 solos) in the regular season last year and was a consensus first-team All-America. Opposite Green are two very fine athletes in Steve Fedell (Jr., 6-2, 230) and Ricky Jackson (Jr., 6-3, 212). The trio gives Sherrill a solid lineup there. The rest of the defensive line is a tested outfit which merely needs some back-up help. In Greg Meisner (Jr., 6-3, 238) and Bill Neill (Jr., 6-4, 249), the Panthers have both starting tackles returning. In between them, at middle guard, is Jerry Boyarsky (Jr., 6-3, 270) who shared the job with Dave Logan last year. Boyarsky can also play both tackle slots. Fine work can again be expected from Jimbo Covert (So., 6-5, 255). Covert was one of the top prospects in the State two years ago out of high school. He will press both the tackles and Boyarsky for playing time. Dave Bucklew (Jr., 6-3, 229) also did nice work as a back-up. The coaches would feel a little more comfortable with more depth here, however, considering the occupational hazard that takes its toll during the course of a season.

Linebackers

Pitt will once again have a solid linebacking corps. Four lettermen and a host of incoming recruits and holdovers will vie for the two positions in the Panthers' 52 defensive system. Leading the way is Jeff Pelusi (Sr., 6-0, 225), who led the team in tackles last year (98). Pelusi has been a starter the last two years and will be a four-year letter-winner by season's end. Opposite him will be either Mark Reichard (Jr., 6-1, 210) or Charles "Yogi" Jones (So., 6-2, 235). They finished in a dead heat for the job after the Spring. Jones was voted most-improved on defense. Sal Sunseri (So., 6-1, 230) was valuable last year as a reserve. Fedell could also play there should the need arise.

Secondary

Sherrill went into Spring practice looking for a safety and he thinks he has found two. That was his most serious concern about the secondary. To begin with, he has Jo Jo Heath (Sr., 5-10, 178) at cornerback. Heath is listed as an All-America candidate and is a superb athletic talent. Lynn Thomas (Jr., 6-0, 181) started opposite Heath last year and is a steady ballplayer. Behind them are Wallace "Pappy" Thomas (So., 5-10, 185) — Lynn's brother — and Terry White (Jr., 5-11, 177). All four lettered last year. Carlton Williamson (Jr., 6-2, 195) has the strong safety job all locked up and is backed by Lee "Butch" Baierl (So., 6-1, 189). At safety, Mike Christ (So., 6-2, 185) got a slight nod over Barry Compton (So., 5-11, 179) after the Spring. Sherrill recruited a host of defensive backs that could be a factor and there are also some holdovers who might have to be reckoned with.

Kicking Game

The kicking chores should again be handled by the capable feet of Mark Schubert (Sr., 6-0, 205) — short field goals and extra points — and Dave Trout (Jr., 5-8, 165) — long field goals, and kickoffs. Schubert converted on 23 of 24 extra points and kicked eight of 11 field goals, the longest being 42 yards. Trout converted three of four extra points and two of four field goals, the longest being 51 yards. In addition, Trout kicked most of his kickoffs into the endzone, many of which were non-returnable. Trout is also in the midst of the fight for the punting job this year along with Russ Grimm and freshman Dan Marino.

The 1979 Spring Game

The 3rd Annual Pitt Alumni-Varsity Spring Football game provided fans with an exciting preview to the 1979 season and brought the preparatory Spring work to a climax.

Under the format of the Alumni-Varsity game, which Sherrill re-introduced to Pitt years ago, the Pitt Varsity squared off against a team of over 70 past Pitt players. The results, bald heads and pot bellies aside, proved to be quite interesting.

After spotting the Alumni a 7-6 lead after one quarter, the Pitt Varsity dominated play the rest of the day and won 26-7 — the widest margin of victory in the game's three year history. The Varsity has won all three contests.

The Varsity opened the scoring on a 28-yard field goal by Mark Schubert, and stretched the lead to 6-0 when Schubert later connected from 24 yards out.

The Alumni's lone score came late in the period when Panther walk-on Sam Lichenstein grabbed a Jo Jo Heath punt fumble out of mid-air and raced 14 yards down the sideline for a touchdown. Carson Long's conversion gave the old grads their only lead of the sunny April day, 7-6.

Quarterback Rick Trocano demonstrated an improved throwing arm in the second quarter when he and split end Willie Collier combined for a 78-yard pass-run touchdown. Schubert's kick made it 13-7.

The lone score of the third quarter was a two-yard sprint around right end by junior halfback Artrell Hawkins. The final score of the game was a 14-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Scott Jenner to wide receiver Tony Campbell.

A highlight of the game occurred on the first play when 80-year-old former Pitt great (1918-20) Herb McCracken dazzled the Varsity defense with a 19-yard run. Dave Havern, Billy Daniels and Tom Yewcic split the quarterbacking duties for the Alumni.

Junior college transfer fullback Randy McMillan gained 23 yards on three carries to lead the Varsity, while Hawkins totaled 22 yards on six attempts. Trocano completed six of 12 passes for 134 yards.

The Ed Conway Memorial Award

Ed Conway was an honest, hard-working, professional sportscaster in the city of Pittsburgh for many years. He was the "Voice of Pitt Football" four years before his untimely death in early 1974.

Ed Conway was also a friend.

In appreciation of his work and in keeping alive his memory, Pitt football will present an award in his name annually to the Most-Improved offensive and defensive player on the squad each Spring.

The 1978 Season In Review

PITT 24, TULANE 6 — SEPTEMBER 16, 1978

NEW ORLEANS, LA — Pitt opened its season in the New Orleans Superdome, the site of its 1976 Sugar Bowl triumph, and rolled over an outmanned Tulane team, 24-6. A balanced Pitt offense which gained 150 yards rushing and 176 through the air, and a very stingy Pitt defense, which allowed but 140 total yards, were the story for the evening as the Panthers jumped off to a 17-6 halftime lead and coasted the rest of the way. Sophomore Rick Trocano accounted for 118 yards passing on eight completions. Split end Gordon "Too Much" Jones used three spectacular receptions good for 91 yards to break Pitt's all-time record for yards received in a career, while the Panthers were led on the ground by the balanced running of Freddy Jacobs (51 yds.), Ray "Rooster" Jones (37 yds.), and Larry Sims (45 yds.).

PITT 20, TEMPLE 12 — SEPTEMBER 23, 1978

PITTSBURGH, PA — Spearheaded by the second half running of quarterback Rick Trocano Pitt scored 17 points to overcome a 6-3 halftime deficit and defeat stubborn Temple in the home opener, 20-12. After sputtering the first half with both Trocano and Lindsay Delaney at the controls, the Pitt offense finally came untracked in the third quarter with touchdowns by Trocano and Freddy Jacobs. Pitt placekickers Mark Schubert and Dave Trout were called upon twice and responded with field goals of 36 and 41 yards respectively. The Panther defense bent but did not break for most of the afternoon with key interceptions by Jeff Delaney and Jo Jo Heath stopping budding Owl drives. Pitt linebacker Al Chesley was a one-man wrecking crew as he chipped in with 14 tackles to lead the team.

PITT 20, NORTH CAROLINA 16—SEPTEMBER 30, 1978

PITTSBURGH, PA — Pitt erupted for 13 fourth quarter points, the last score coming on a Rick Trocano to Freddy Jacobs 13-yd. pass with a mere 1:34 left in the game, to edge the Tar Heels of North Carolina, 20-16, in front of over 50,000 in Pitt Stadium and a regional TV audience. The first half was a defensive slugfest as neither team yielded a touchdown and the only scoring coming on a 34-yard North Carolina field goal in the second quarter. After playing giveaway with two fumbles in the first half the Pitt offense finally began to roll in the third quarter when halfback Freddy Jacobs scored the first of his three second-half touchdowns to give the Panthers a shortlived 7-3 lead.

PITT 32, BOSTON COLLEGE 15—OCTOBER 7, 1978

CHESTNUT HILL, MA — The Panthers captured their fourth win in a row by steamrolling Boston College, 32-15. Pitt scored the first four times it had the ball — twice on touchdowns and twice on Mark Schubert field goals of 21 and 32 yards — to take a 19-0 lead before the game was 18 minutes old. From then on inconsistency plagued the Panther offensive unit and it wasn't until the fourth quarter that they put another score on the board with TDs on a two-yard Rooster Jones scamper and a 29-yard TD reception by Gordon Jones of a Trocano aerial. The Panther ground star was halfback Freddy Jacobs who rushed for 113 yards on 25 carries — his best performance of the season. Rooster Jones also chipped in with 76 yards to help bolster the Pitt running game which churned out 275 total yards.

NOTRE DAME 26, PITT 17—OCTOBER 14, 1978

SOUTH BEND, IN — Pitt suffered its first setback of the season, in front of a national TV audience, as quarterback Joe Montana rallied Notre Dame from a 10-point deficit in the fourth quarter to a 26-17 win. The Panthers went into the fourth quarter with a 10-7 lead and upped it to 17-7 with 11 minutes remaining before Montana rallied the Irish on the strength of a 110-yard quarter passing performance. The comeback wiped out one of the best offensive afternoons of the season for the Panthers as quarterback Rick Trocano steered the offense to over 300 total yards on his way to scoring two touchdowns himself. Starting running backs Rooster Jones (82 yards) and Freddy Jacobs (81 yards) led a balanced runnning attack but it wasn't enough as three costly fumbles (two of which led to Irish scores) helped fuel the Pitt demise. Two interceptions also marred another fine passing performance by Trocano as he hit on 10 completions for 110 yards. Notre Dame broke on top first with a first quarter TD, but the Panthers rallied for 10 points in the second quarter to take a halftime lead into the locker room.

PITT 7, FLORIDA STATE 3—OCTOBER 21, 1978

PITTSBURGH, PA — Florida State head coach Bobby Bowden put this game in proper prospective in one neat sentence: "I didn't think any team in the country could hold us to only three points, but Pitt proved something to me today." Emotionally bruised at the Notre Dame game the Pitt defense stopped one of the country's truly explosive offensive machines from crossing the goaline. Florida State moved the ball (111 yards rushing and 220 yards passing) but the Seminoles couldn't score. Sophomore defensive end Ricky Jackson had 14 tackles, while All-America end, defensive end Hugh Green, and All-East linebacker Al Chesley each registered nine tackles.

NAVY 21, PITT 11—OCTOBER 28, 1978

ANNAPOLIS, MD — This was a game the Pitt team had to forget right away. In a totally frustrating effort, the Panthers began four drives inside the Navy 50-yard line in the first quarter and came away without a point. Navy, riding on steam from a 6-0 record, shut down the Pitt running game (-28 yards, counting sacks) and forced the Panthers to the air a school record 52 times without significant scoring results. Trocano threw for 275 yards which was the eighth most productive afternoon in history for a Pitt quarterback, but the Panthers didn't score a touchdown until only six minutes remained, and that was a two-yard run by Freddy Jacobs. Steve Gaustad caught 11 passes for 132 yards and Gordon Jones caught six for 67 yards. That gave Jones a total of 121 career catches, his sixth Pitt pass receiving record.

PITT 18, SYRACUSE 17—NOVEMBER 4, 1978

SYRACUSE, NY — After that disheartening loss at Navy, the Pitt Panthers overcame a 10 point deficit in the fourth quarter by scoring 11 points and the one point win. Syracuse opened the scoring on a first-quarter 37-yard field goal. Pitt came right back with a 57-yard drive, totally on the ground, capped by Freddy Jacobs' 5-yard run, also in the first quarter. A gunned-up Syracuse team took control of the game, scoring a touchdown each in the second and third quarters to set the stage for the Pitt comeback. Trocano took the Pitt team 76 yards to score, the key play coming on a 20-yard Trocano to Steve Gaustad pass to take the ball to the Syracuse nine. Trocano later carried it in for the score. That set up the big play of the game, a two-point conversion run by Jacobs, off a critical Rooster Jones block, to pull the Panthers within two. That set up the winning 28-yard field goal by Mark Schubert with three minutes left.

PITT 52, WEST VIRGINIA 7—NOVEMBER 11, 1978

PITTSBURGH, PA — Waiting to explode all season long, the Pitt Panthers picked archrival West Virginia as the victim and blasted the Mountaineers 52-7. The Panthers played 60 minutes of excellent football and dominated with balance. Quarterback Rick Trocano and halfback Larry Sims each chipped in one-yard touchdown runs in the first quarter to stake Pitt to a 14-0 lead. Pitt went up 21-0 just before the half when Sims turned the corner for four yards. While Sims did the scoring, halfback Rooster Jones got the yardage, accumulating 99 in the first half and a total of 169 for the day, a season high. Jones hit paydirt twice in the third quarter, skirting in for a four-yard run and later for a 10-yard jaunt in between West Virginia's only score of the day, to stake Pitt to a 35-7 lead. Lindsay Delaney then entered the game and promptly hit the magnificent Gordon Jones for a 32-yard scoring strike and a 42-7 lead. Freshman fullback Russell Carter scored on a one-yard run and Dave Trout hit on a 51-yard field goal, one yard short of the school record.

PITT 35, ARMY 17—NOVEMBER 18, 1978

PITTSBURGH, PA — Four-year starter and All-America Jeff Delaney picked this game to make one of the longest plays in Pitt history and the most important play of the 1978 season. With Army leading 7-0 and threatening on the Panther one-foot line, Delaney picked off a fumble in mid air and raced 99 yards for the tying touchdown. The play turned the game in Pitt's direction as the Panthers went on to soundly beat Army 35-17. Rick Trocano scampered for a six-yard score late in the first quarter to put Pitt ahead 14-7 at the half. Rooster Jones had another brilliant running day, accumulating 99 yards and Trocano passed for 143 yards.

PENN STATE 17, PITT 10—NOVEMBER 24, 1978

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA — In a titanic defensive struggle, the underdog Pitt Panthers battled the No. 1 ranked Nittany Lions on even terms for three quarters before succumbing to the heavily favored Lions, 17-10, on a cold and blustery autumn afternoon, at Beaver Stadium. The Panthers acutally led in the third quarter on the strength of a 27-yard Mark Schubert field goal that made it 10-7. But Penn State managed to punch across 10 fourth-quarter points on a Panther unit that had been nothing short of magnificent for most of the afternoon, to win the ballgame and maintain their No. 1 ranking. Both defenses prevailed for much of the game, with the Panthers holding the vaunted and versatile Penn State attack to 230 total yards. But while the Pitt defense was controlling the State's offense, the Panther offense again had trouble moving the ball consistently. Still, they were able to mount a second quarter drive that was capped off with a Trocano to Steve Gaustad touchdown pass good for 16 yards and a 7-7 deadlock at halftime. On the ground, halfback Freddy Jacobs was Pitt's leading ground gainer with 45 yards.

ORLANDO, FLA — Though Pitt was within striking distance of beating N.C. State in the Tangerine Bowl until the final minutes. the outing was not a good one for the Panthers. They were completely handled by NC State in the first half and were down 17-0 at intermission on a 2-yard TD run by Ted Brown, a 44-yard field goal by John Ritter, and a 55-yard TD pass from John Isley to Bob Jukes. After exchanging field goals in the third period, NC State was on top 23-3 before Fred Jacobs scored on a four-yard run to cut it to 23-10. State, however, scored again on a 66-yard touchdown return of a Rick Trocano interception. Russell Carter scored on a one-yard run for the final score of the night.

Pitt Stadium-Home of the Panthers

Not until 1925 did Pitt football teams have a home to call their own.

Prior to that, Pitt teams played football at Forbes Field, old home of the Pittsburgh Pirates, from 1909-1924. The newly-completed Forbes Quadrangle (which houses several departments and classrooms), bordered by Roberto Clemente Drive, now stands on the old Forbes Field site.

From 1890 to 1908, the Pirates played at various ballparks, but mostly old Exposition Park on the North Side, in the general vicinity of Three Rivers Stadium.

In 1925 Pitt Stadium was dedicated and the football teams have called it home ever since. With a present seating capacity of 56,500, Pitt Stadium is generally considered one of the finest spectator-viewing stadiums in the East. Every seat in the oval-shaped structure is a good one for football.

The structure has basically remained the same over the years, but many adjustments have been made that make Pitt Stadium one of the truly complete college sports complexes around.

The interior of the 53-year-old bowl is painted bright blue and gold, contrasting with the dark green Astro-Turf playing surface and the red-brick colored 440-yard all-weather Tartan track. The Stadium sports a new Astro-Turf surface, installed in the summer of 1977. The original Astro-Turf surface was put in in 1969.

The Stadium became a more efficient and more attractive edifice last season. First, a new coaching office complex was opened. The two-floor office, reception, conference room and workout area now houses the entire football staff.

In addition, a brand new, spacious and more efficient Ticket Office Headquarters was opened at Gate 1 last year. More offices are planned for the Stadium in the future.

Vast improvement on the seating was also completed this past summer, in the completion of a comprehensive two-year program to completely refurbish the seating. Adding greatly to the comfort of the fan, the old seats were removed, the concrete base was touched up and sealed and new aluminum seats were installed. Half of the Stadium was completed after the 1977 season and the other half was done this past summer.

Opened in 1925 at a cost of $2,125,000, the Stadium originally seated 67,000. Various seats were removed to provide better access. The present capacity is 56,500. The Stadium plant itself encompasses 10 acres with an outer circumference of one-half mile. The Stadium also houses the band, the track team and a general reception area.

The first game at the Stadium was played in 1925 when Pitt defeated Washington & Lee 28-0. During the next four seasons, the Panthers played 30 of their 34 games there.

The single game attendance record was set in 1938, when 68,918 fans jammed every corner of the Stadium to see Pitt beat Fordham 24-13. The interest was at a peak for that game since the two teams had played to consecutive scoreless ties the three previous years.

In 1977, 287,867 fans saw the Panthers play in six games. That total is the highest for a single season. The average per game attendance record was set last year, however, in five home encounters. An average of 49,472 fans attended last season.

English has had a very interesting relationship with the quarterback position dating back to when he was a high school player . . . at Flaget High School in Louisville, Wally was on the same team with Paul Hornung . . . in fact they teamed up in a bizarre offensive formation . . . both quarterbacks would line up under center, at the snap of the ball both would sprint in opposite directions . . . needless to say they confused the defense and were quite successful with the formation . . . this brought about a rule change and now only one quarterback is permitted to line up under center . . . at Louisville English was on the same team with Johnny Unitas . . . in his career, English has coached some outstanding quarterbacks, including Dickie Lyons, Don Strock — who was the National passing and total offense leader in the NCAA in 1972 at Virginia Tech, and David Humm at Nebraska . . . at Brigham Young last year, he coached Mark Wilson, who was the NCAA's passing leader in 1978 and Jim McMahon who was the All-Conference quarterback . . . in one game Wilson passed for 571 yards against New Mexico . . . after graduating from Louisville, English joined the Louisville Raiders of the Continental League for one season as its QB . . . the Continental League was the forerunner of the National Football League . . . Tom Connors, Head Equipment Manager

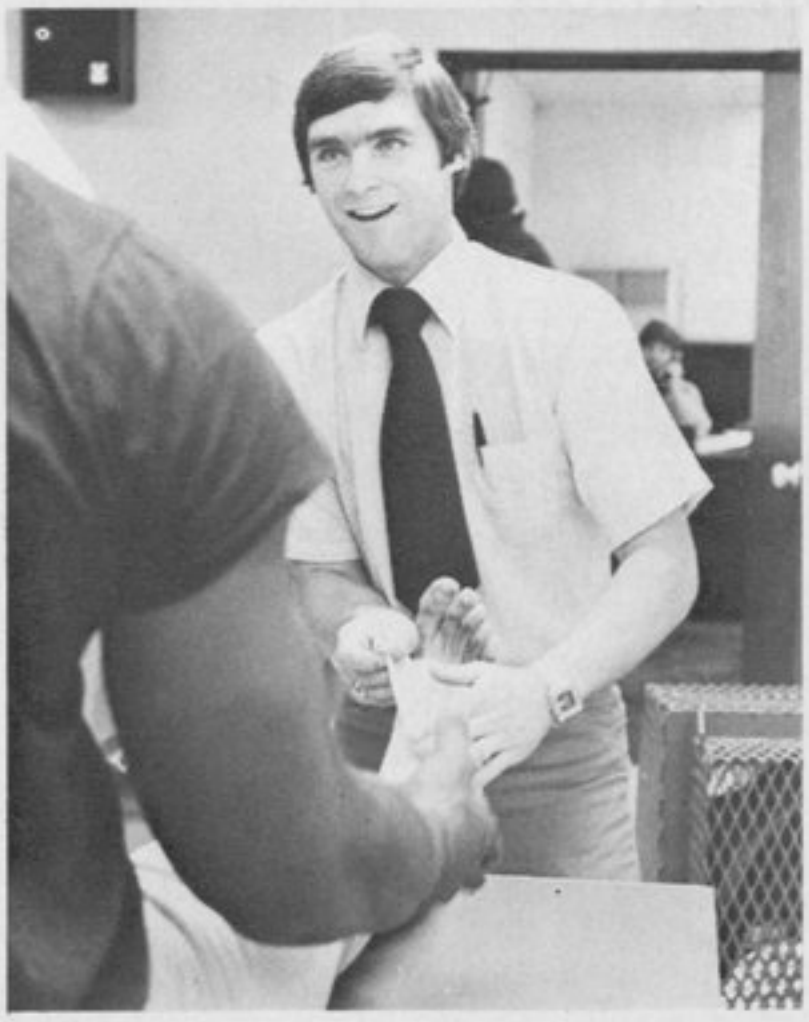
Connors assumed the post last year, when his father "Boo" — who had been head equipment Manager for 13 years and a University employee for the last 25 years — was elevated to Locker Room Superintendent. Boo retired this past July.

Tom's relationship with Pitt goes back to his childhood days when his dad brought him to work at Pitt.

"For one thing, it eliminated the need for a babysitter," the 25 year old Connors said. "I am literally following in my father's footsteps," he added, "and while it can be tough being your father's protege, dad has always been fair to me and always insisted on showing everything he could."

Connors' duties include maintaining equipment supplies, equipment distribution and supervision of the locker room area and field. Ed McGregor will be Assistant Equipment Manager and Jackie Burns, a manager on the squad the past three years, will assume the duties of Head Manager.

After graduating from Langley High School in 1973, Tom attended Potomac State for two years before returning to finish his studies at Pitt. During the 1976 and 1977 seasons he also served as his father's assistant. In addition, he was periodically an assistant equipment manager with the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1969 to 1975.



KIP SMITH, head football trainer

DR. JAMES H. McMASTER, Director of University's Division Sports Medicine

Medical Care for University Athletes

The Pitt Panthers receive superior medical care provided by the University Division of Sports Medicine, under the direction of Dr. James H. McMaster. Dr. McMaster is the Director of the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery at Allegheny General Hospital.

Working closely with him is another fine orthopaedic surgeon, Dr. Richard L. Ray. In addition to Drs. McMaster and Ray are more than a dozen consultants from various departments of the medical school which provide comprehensive medical coverage to the more than 600 male and female varsity athletes and other students in the huge intramural and recreational programs.

In addition to its physicians, the Division of Sports Medicine boasts a highly qualified staff of certified trainers. Kip Smith is the head football trainer, assisted by Francis Feld. Tony Incorvaia is the basketball trainer and works with the Field House sports.

The most recent additions to the staff include Charles Weinmann who is coordinator of the athletic training education curriculum and will work with wrestling; also, Peggy Trippel who will head up the athletic trainer responsibilities for the women's sports program.

Over the past eight years the Division of Sports Medicine has sponsored a daily sports medicine clinic. University of Pittsburgh varsity athletes are examined and treated at the Pitt stadium facility. A new sports medicine clinic will open this fall at Allegheny General Hospital for the purpose of seeing area high school athletes and other college students.

An additional responsibility of the athletic trainer at Pitt is teaching the Athletic Training and Sports Medicine curriculum. A total of 20 undergraduate credits can be obtained in this field.

This program is one of a few in the country open to both education and physical therapy majors. It is also one of the few directly associated with a school of medicine.

Dr. McMaster and his staff have conducted a highly successful Sports Medicine symposium for physicians, athletic trainers, coaches, and nurses. The symposium is held annually and covers a wide range of sports medicine topics. Speakers for the symposium are chosen for their expertise in the area of athletic medicine.

Panthers on the Air

Pitt football will be beamed this Fall via both radio and television throughout Pennsylvania and across the country.

On the radio, a professional, first-class, two-man broadcasting team will call the action for the network, originating with WTAE (1250) in Pittsburgh. 'Voice of the Panthers' Bill Hillgrove, Sports Director of WTAE-TV in Pittsburgh, begins his sixth year as football play-by-play man. Hillgrove will again be joined by nationally known TV analyst, John Sauer, beginning his sixth year.

Also on radio this Fall, WTAE Radio will carry pre-game and post-game locker room Jackie Sherrill shows. The 10-minute pre-game show will immediately precede all Pitt broadcasts, and the 15-minute post-game show will be aired at 5:45 p.m. each Saturday following the game.

On television "Pitt Football '79", a weekly half-hour highlights show featuring Head Coach Jackie Sherrill, will be broadcast in the Tri-State area on appoximately seven commercial stations and also throughout the United States on cable television through the formation of a satellite network.

The show will originate in Pittsburgh and will be produced there by WTAE-TV (channel 4). It will feature highlights of game action and comments from Sherrill. WTAE-TV airs the show at 12 noon each Sunday and on Monday evening following the Action News Report. In addition to WTAE-TV in Pittsburgh, the show is expected to be carried in the following TV markets: Allentown, PA; Erie, PA; Johnstown, PA; Scranton/Wilkes-Barre, PA; Wheeling, WV/Steubenville, OH; Clarksburg, WV; and Hagerstown, MD.

In addition, the show will be beamed on the Total Communication Systems (New Kensington, PA) Satellite Network which will reach 2-3 million homes this Fall. The TCS Satellite Network uses the RCA Sitcom I satellite to reach homes throughout the United States, including all 50 states except Hawaii.

LAST YEAR'S GAME:

Teams last met in the 1975 Sun Bowl.

Lettermen Returning: 51
Lettermen Lost: 8
Top Backs: QB Kevin Clinton, FB Harry Sydney, TB Larry Kemp
Top Newcomers: FB Wayne Capers, TB Garfield Taylor, NG Stanley Gardner
Game Notes: The two schools have met only once on the football field — in the 1975 Sun Bowl — and Pitt came away the winner, 33-19 . . . that win is generally looked upon as kicking off the Panthers' National Championship season in 1976 . . . the win was the start of a 13 game win streak . . . in that game, Kansas had an apparent 83-yard scoring play called back because of a forward lateral . . . QB Nolen Cromwell ran 13 yards before lateralling to Bill Campfield . . . moments later, Pitt stopped Kansas on a fourth and inches situation to swing the game its way . . . Elliott Walker then sped 60 yards for a TD and the Panthers were off and running . . . three Panther runners rushed for over 100 yards in the game: Tony Dorsett (142), Elliott Walker (123) and QB Robert Haygood (101) . . . Haygood was chosen Sun Bowl MVP . . . Laverne Smith, recently released by the Pittsburgh Steelers, rushed for 118 yards, including 55- and 17-yard touchdown runs . . . during the off-season, Kansas rehired Don Fambrough as head coach . . . he had coached Kansas from 1971 to 1974 before his retirement . . . his record during his first regime was 19-25-1 . . . "I've been here before. We were down in 1971 and managed to turn it around. Hopefully we can do it again," Fambrough said after being rehired . . . ironically, he was on the search committee to find a new coach . . . "I now know how to get a head coaching job," he joked. "You get yourself on the search committee and blackball everyone else" . . . his best record during his first stint was 7-4-1 in 1974, with a Liberty Bowl bid . . . the Sun Bowl also marked the departure of Jackie Sherrill from Johnny Majors' staff to accept the head job at Washington State . . . Sherrill, of course, returned to Pitt one year later . . . Fambrough returns 51 lettermen and 17 starters from last year's 1-10 team (Bud Moore) . . . Fambrough plans to put the emphasis on the pass and has former Kansas and Pro passing star John Hadl as his offensive coordinator.

Rick Trocano passed for 220 yards on 16 completions . . . on defense Al Chesley led the team in tackles with 14, intercepted a pass, and blocked two kicks — earning him AP Defensive Player-of-the-Game . . . the Tar Heels have gone to bowl games in six of the last eight seasons under former coach Bill Dooley, who was replaced by Dick Crum last year . . . cornerback Ricky Barden is a leading candidate for All-America honors in his senior season . . . quarterback Mike Kupec is back after completing 58.7 per cent of his passes last season . . . also returning is All-America candidate "Famous" Amos Lawrence, who enters his junior year with 2,254 yards rushing — more rushing yardage after two years than anyone in college history except Tony Dorsett and Ron Po James . . . although the Panther defense held him to 47 yards rushing at Pitt last year, "Famous" Amos gained 1,043 yards on the season . . . he also broke Dorsett's freshman record of yards rushing in a game by gaining 286 yards against Virginia.

Game Notes: Pitt holds the edge in this series 14-11-2, dating back to 1912. Last year's 21-11 Navy win gave the Middies a split over the last four years. It was a frustrating game for Pitt as it had the ball four times inside the Navy 50 in the first quarter and failed to score a point . . . with the win, Navy ran its record to 7-0 at the time . . . Navy moves into the 1979 season with momentum from its best season in 15 years (9-3) last fall . . . the Middies played in the Holiday Bowl and won (23-16) over Brigham Young . . . they finished 17th in the national rankings . . . Coach George Welsh, a graduate of the Naval Academy, has wins over Pitt and Penn State in six coaching seasons there . . . among the seven starters returning from last year's defense, which was ranked 13th in the country, are two All-America honorable mentions in end Charlie Thornton and defensive back Greg Milo . . . also returning is leading tackler Tom Paulk, with 117 stops last year . . . a possible at QB is Bob Powers from Beaver, PA . . . the Panther running game was shut down last year (-28 yards, counting sacks), while Trocano threw for 275 yards, the 7th best single game in Pitt history . . . Trocano had 51 attempts, which tied him with Dave Havern as an all-time high. His 25 completions were a season high . . . Steve Gaustad caught 11 passes for 132 yards, a high for the season . . . Gordon Jones caught 6 for 67 yards and totaled 121 career catches, his sixth Pitt pass receiving record . . . defensively, Al Chesley had 14 tackles to lead the Panthers . . . Game Notes: When the Panthers defeated the Orangemen, 18-17, at Archbold Stadium last year, it marked the sixth consecutive win in the series, which Pitt leads 19-13-2 . . . Trocano hit on nine passes for 101 yards directing a well balanced attack . . . the big play of the game was a two-point conversion run by Freddy Jacobs, who also led in rushing for 83 yards . . . Gaustad caught 5 passes for 63 yards . . . Mark Schubert kicked the winning 28-yard field goal with three minutes left . . . head coach Frank Maloney feels Syracuse is loaded offensively . . . returning is quarterback Bill Hurley who was injured on the 7th play of the '78 season . . . he is a threat both as a runner and passer, entering his senior year with 3,860 combined total yards . . . two years ago, Hurley threw for 303 yards against Pitt . . . also returning are leading receiver Art Monk and running back Joe Morris . . . Morris was the first Orange frosh to rush for 1,000 yards in a season, having five 100-yard games . . . last year's game was the last played in ancient Archbold Stadium . . . SU will play all 11 games on the road while the new stadium is under construction . . . Maloney feels this year's schedule isn't as 'suicidal', but four bowl teams (Ohio State, Penn State, Navy, and Pitt) are on tap.

Cedric Thomas is expected back at SE after missing most of last season with an injury.

Panthers Have Varied Academic Interests

The University of Pittsburgh has always been extremely proud of the record its athletes have attained following graduation. The achievement of Pitt graduates in public life speaks for itself.

Over the last seven years, for instance, Pitt football players have graduated at a rate of over 80%. Overall, the graduation rate of its athletes compares favorably to the University's completion rates for its athletes compares favorably to the University's completion rates for all its students. The national average over the same seven years has been 60% for students across the country.

And last year, while the Panther football team was going 8-4 on the football field — earning a trip to the Tangerine Bowl in the process — 11 of 13 football seniors (84%) graduated.

Pitt players on the 1979 football team are planning an interesting variety of careers as evidenced by the wide range of curricula majors.

Green Jr., 6-2, 215

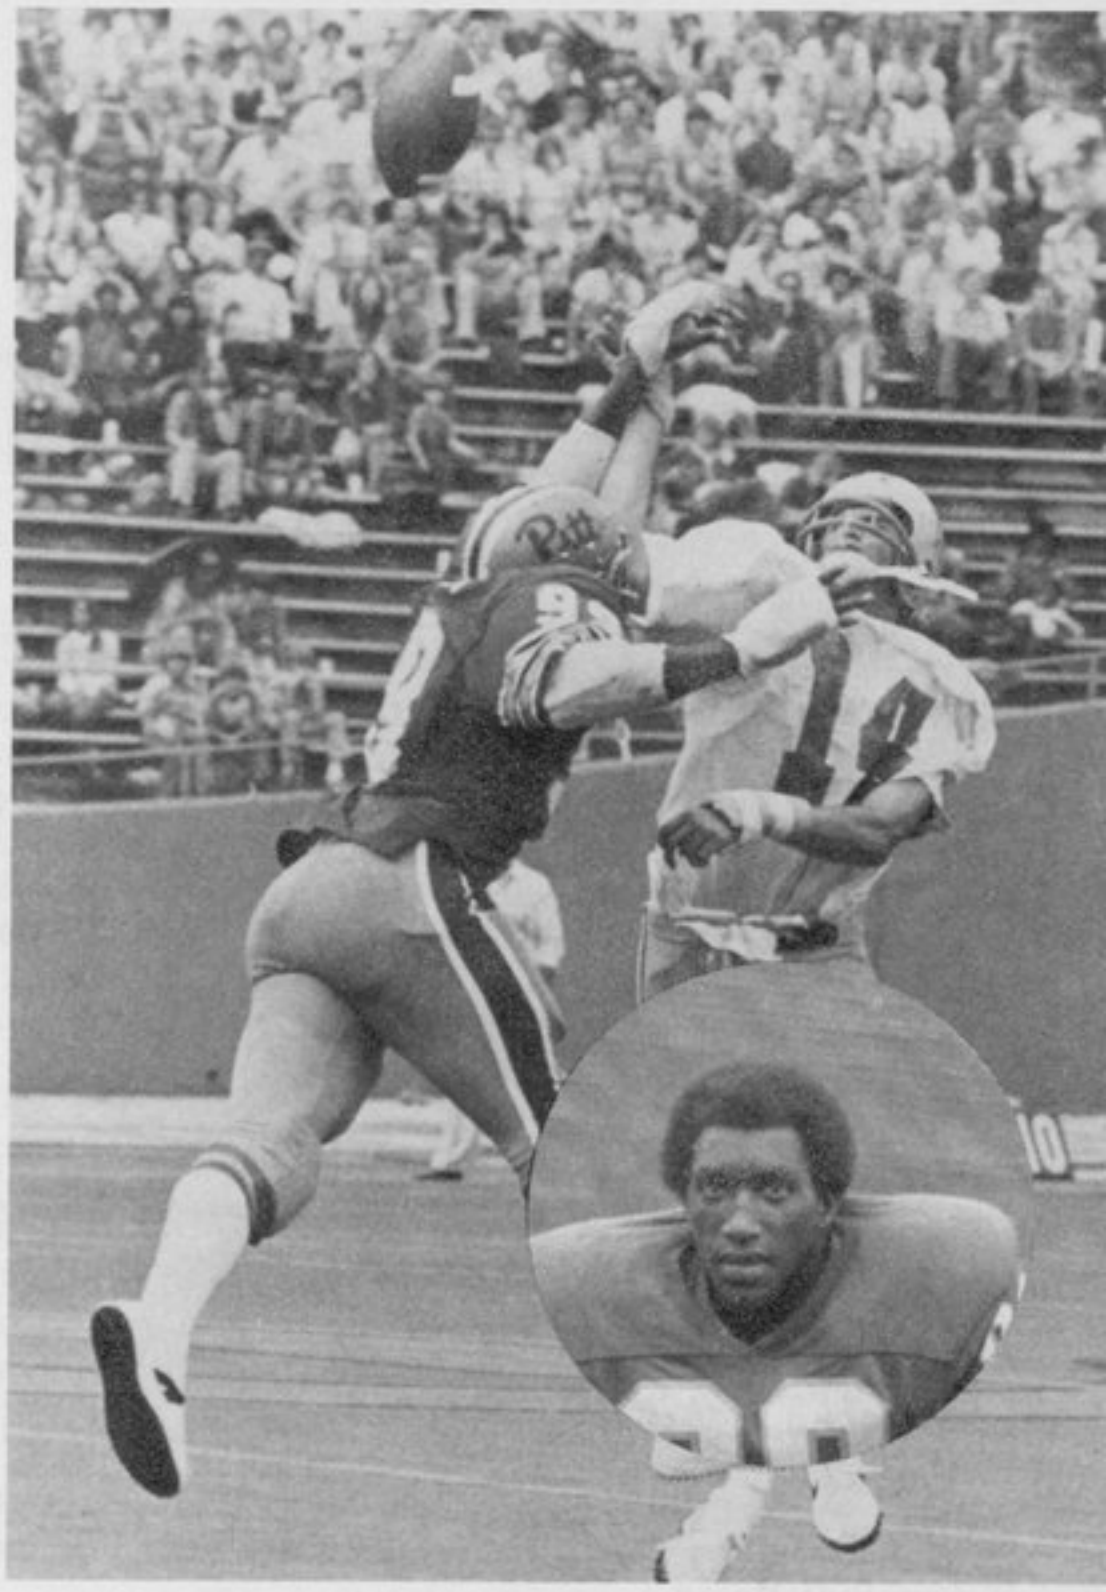
Natchez, MS



It has taken Hugh Green only two years to establish himself as one of the finest young college football players in the country . . . after his sophomore season, he is already a two-time All-America and certainly qualifies as a legitimate candidate for both the Outland Trophy and the Lombardi Award — both symbolic of the nation's finest lineman . . . as a sophomore last season, Hugh was selected first team All-America by the Associated Press, United Press International and the Walter Camp Foundation, making him perhaps the most outstanding sophomore star in the country . . . he was the first sophomore in history to be chosen first team by the Walter Camp Foundation . . . being a consensus All-America after only his sophomore season puts him in the same company as Tony Dorsett in the Pitt history book . . . his consensus All-America status also lists him with the likes of Dorsett, Randy Holloway, Matt Cavanaugh and Bob Jury — who were all recent Pitt consensus All-Americas . . . in what has to be considered a sparkling tribute to him, Hugh was elected to the Pitt All-Time team (1910-1978) this past summer by a panel of Pittsburgh sportswriters, broadcasters, and knowledgeable Pitt football fans . . . what is amazing about this honor is that he still has two years to play . . . Green's reputation is preceding him on a National level too — he was picked by Anson Mount to the Playboy Pre-Season All-America team for 1979 . . . as a freshman two years ago, he burst upon the college football season in a spectacular way, starting his first game in a nationally televised clash against Notre Dame . . . Hugh went from complete unknown to superstar in one game, destroying the Irish with 11 tackles, two quarterback sacks and a blocked kick . . . opponents soon found out he was no flash in the pan . . . he was Pitt's big play man all year long as the Panthers rolled to a 9-2-1 record, a victory over Clemson in the Gator Bowl, and a 7th ranking in the polls . . . after the season, the honors rolled in . . . he was chosen second team All-America by the Associated Press — the first frosh All-America since Dorsett . . . Football News All-America, the top freshman rusher by the Football News, and All-East by AP, UPI and the New York Times . . . Green's sophomore season was just as spectacular as he led a Pitt defense that ranked among the best . . . he has size, he has speed (a 4.5 forty), he has strength (he can be virtually unmovable and unblockable), he is quick, consistently running ballcarriers down from behind, he is versatile (one of the best pass rushers around who can also be found playing pass defense), he is so dominant that opposing coaches have to find ways to avoid him . . . aware of this, Pitt coaches have found ways to hide him, moving him around: he has played tackle, linebacker and defensive end in different situations . . . the Pitt coaches feel he could play any position on the football field . . . in his brief career, he has delivered the big play with such regularity that it is now expected of him every play . . . to boot, he is as fierce a competitor as can be found and his best performances have come against the best teams on the schedule as a result . . . in 11 games last year, he made 95 tackles, registered nine sacks for 57 yards in losses and made uncountable stops for losses in the backfield.

PANTHER NOTES

The Pitt Cheerleaders

The Pitt football team has been a highly successful unit the last four years and, congruently, so have the Pitt cheerleaders.

Touted a varsity sport four years ago, the Panther cheerleaders begin their fifth year under the tutelage of head coach Karen Agostinella. She will be assisted this year by Mike Sambuco, who just finished four years as a cheerleader — three as captain.

The squad has been named to the "Top Twenty" among university squads for the third consecutive year, including a third place national finish two years ago and a tenth place finish in 1976. Along the way, the squad has accumulated a slew of national honors.

Susan Murphy was named "Miss Cheerleader U.S.A." in a Cypress Gardens competition in 1977. Her reign was followed by teammate Joyce Prokopovich, who won the competition as "Miss Cheerleader U.S.A." for 1978. It was the first time two women from the same school won the titles back-to-back.

In addition, Patti Griffin was named All-America in 1978, Mike Sambuco was a scholarship recipient in 1978 and Murphy was named All-America for 1979.

Using a combination of gymnastics, dance, mini-tramp work and pyramids for their routines, the squad promises to be even better this year with the addition of advanced gymnastics and an integrated approach to dance.

Plans for a new look and a new approach to crowd stimulation are on the drawing board for the 1979 season.

The cheerleaders will host the third annual "Pitt Cheerleader Day" on Saturday, October 27, when Pitt hosts Navy at Pitt Stadium. High school and junior high school teenagers will be invited to attend.

The Pitt Band

Composed of 192 instrumentalists and 16 Golden Girls, the Pitt Band is considered among the finest marching bands in the country and serves as a vital tool for generating fan enthusiasm at sporting events. Its musical quality, marching expertise and imaginative football half-time shows are reasons which have led to the Band's national recognition.

A hard-working crew that travels with the football team at least twice a year, the Band has also traveled to Pitt's last four Bowl games. On December 26, 1975, the Band performed at the Sun Bowl; on January 1, 1977, it performed at the Sugar Bowl with Chuck Mangione and Pete Fountain, on December 31, 1977 it performed at the Gator Bowl and last December 24 it worked with Anita Bryant at the Tangerine Bowl.

Other musical organizations in the Division of University Bands include the Concert Band, Wind Ensemble and the Solid Gold jazz-rock band.

The Band Staff: Donald E. Hower, Director of Bands; Vincent A. Biancucci, Associate Director of Bands, Joe Campus, Music Arranger; and Larry Cervi, Choreographer.

RECORDS & STATS

Eighty-Nine Years of Panthers

Pitt football got off to a humble beginning back in 1890. Only three games were played that year and the record read a modest 1-2.

A winning record wasn't recorded until 1900, a decade later, and from then on, things began steamrolling for the Panthers.

In 1904, the Panthers, led by Joe Thompson of World War I fame, registered an undefeated 10-0 record, the School's first spotless mark. Thompson took over as coach after graduation and in 1910 the team produced an undefeated (9-0), untied, and unscored upon season. Under Joe Duff, brother of the former U. S. Senator, the Panthers lost only once in 1914 and set the stage for the legendary Glenn Scobey 'Pop' Warner in 1915.

Under Warner, the Panthers were 59-11-4 from 1915 to 1923. During this time the Panthers put together some formidable winning streaks. Warner's teams won their first 31 consecutive games, until W & J beat Pitt 13-10 in 1919. Counting the last two wins in 1914, the Panthers undefeated streak lasted 33 games.

In 1916, the Pitt team came up with an innovation for which millions of football fans have since given thanks. In addition to being undefeated, the Panthers were the first team to wear uniform numbers.

During Warner's tenure, Pitt's first All-America appeared. Bob Peck reached that status in 1914 and again in 1915 and 1916 to become a three-time All-America. Peck was rated one of the great all-time performers at center. Halfback Tom Davies and tackle Leonard Hilty (both 1918) were two other stars of that era

Famous then, and more famous later, were a big Scotch guard/end and 1917 team captain, Jock Sutherland; Dr. H. C. Carlson, who went on to coach basketball at Pitt for 31 years; and Tiny Thornhill, who went to coach Stanford's Rose Bowl teams.

Following Warner, Sutherland began a 15-year regime in 1924. It began slowly, but ended with the Panthers ensconced among the mighty.

Sutherland recorded an incredible 111-20-12 record, including National Championships in 1929, 1931, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Coupled with Warner's three National Championships (1915, 1916, and 1918), the Panthers had won eight National Titles in 47 years. Pitt didn't add another title until 1976, to give the School a total of nine and place them 5th among all schools in NCAA history. These feats deeply entrench the Panthers as a truly great all-time college power. Sutherland's tenure also included four Rose Bowl trips, winning the 1937 game over Washington.

As should be expected with this kind of winning football, many performers won individual All-America acclamation: Ralph Chase, tackle, 1925; Gibby Welch, halfback, 1927; Mike Betto, tackle, 1928; Ray Montgomery, guard, and Joe Donchess, end, 1929; Jess Quatse, tackle, 1931; Warren Heller, halfback, 1932; Joe Skladany, end, 1933; Doc Hartwig, guard, and George Shotwell, center, 1934; Averell Daniell, tackle, 1935; Marshall Goldberg, halfback, and Tony Matisi, tackle, 1937; and Goldberg and Bill Daddio, end, in 1938 all received All-America recognition during this period.

Sutherland left in 1938 and with his departure the Pitt program didn't have another winning season for a decade. Of course, during that time World War II took a bite out of everyone's program. After the War, however, it didn't take the Panthers long to get back in the winning swing of things. Mike Milligan turned in a winning record, the first in ten years, in 1948 and again in 1949. Milligan resigned in 1950 and he was replaced by Len Casanova who also departed. the following summer. In 1951 Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took over as head coach until Lowell Dawson took over in 1952. Ill health caused Dawson to step down in 1954 where Tom Hamilton took over once again for the remainder of the season. Hamilton handed the job to John Michelson in 1955. Hamilton and Michelson steered the team toward a winning direction. The 1955 season brought a 7-3 record and a Sugar Bowl invitation (the Panthers dropped a close 7-0 game to Georgia Tech). The Gator Bowl followed in 1956 after a 7-2-1 season, but the Panthers lost another close decision (21-14) to Georgia Tech.

Things slowed down a bit and the Panthers hovered around the .500 mark until 1962.

During this stretch in history, numerous other Pitt Panthers attained All-America status. Ralph Fife, 1941; Bernie Barkouskie, 1949; Joe Schmidt, 1952, all were touted as guards. Eldred Kraemer, tackle, 1952; Joe Walton, end, 1956; John Guzik, guard, 1958; and Mike Ditka at end in 1960 were also All-Americas.

Then came 1963. The Panthers finished with a 9-1 record and were ranked third in the country. Paul Martha and Ernie Borghetti won first team All-America rating during this memorable year.

After losing seasons in 1964 and 1965, Michelosen was replaced by Dave Hart in 1966. Hart undertook an extensive recruiting campaign and quickly gained the reputation as one of the finest recruiters in Pitt history. Unfortunately, the squads didn't perform well on the field, and he resigned after three years and a 3-27 record.

He was replaced in 1969 by former Pitt player and assistant coach, Carl DePasqua. In four years, DePasqua brought the Panthers respectability but was unable to establish a winner. He was released after a 1-10 record in 1972, giving him an overall mark of 13-29.

The losing trend caused the University to take a close look at its football program and a number of improvements were instituted. One of the country's brightest young football coaches, Johnny Majors, was hired and the program took an immediate upturn. In his first season, Majors took Pitt to its first winning season in ten years (6-4-1) and its first Bowl appearance (Fiesta Bowl) in 17 seasons. Majors improved that mark to 7-4 and a second place ranking in the East in his second year. Gary Burley, middle guard, won first-team All-America touting. In 1975 Pitt finished 8-4, went to the Sun Bowl, and was nationally ranked 13th by UPI.

This three-year growth served to set the stage for the 1976 season. The Panthers completed perhaps one of the most dramatic turnarounds in college football history in 1976 — from 1-10 in 1972 to 12-0 and a National Championship in 1976. Tony Dorsett won the Heisman Trophy and first team All-America selection for the third year. Middle guard Al Romano won honors for the first time. Other Panthers (Jim Corbett, tight end; Tom Brzoza, guard, Jimbo Cramer, linebacker; Bob Jury, safety; and Carson Long, kicker) made second and third team All-America in 1976. Majors was named Coach-of-the-Year for the second time (1973) and the Panthers received just about every trophy available designating Eastern and National supremacy. Not since 1937 had the Panthers been able to call themselves Unanimous National Champion.

After Pitt's 27-3 win in the Sugar Bowl, Jackie Sherrill replaced Majors as coach. Majors opted to return to his alma mater, Tennessee. Sherrill, who was a Majors' assistant at Pitt for three years and was instrumental as an architect in the Pitt rebuilding job, left after the 1975 season to coach Washington State for a year (3-8) and readily returned to Pitt when the offer was made. He found himself in the strange role of inheriting a team coming off the National Championship.

But, in a pressure-packed atmosphere, Sherrill came through. He sustained the lofty heights that the Pitt program had reached. The Panthers were ranked 7th and 8th on the polls, registered a 9-2-1 record, and beat Clemson 34-3 to cop the Gator Bowl Championship. The Panthers had four first-team All-Americas (Randy Holloway, Matt Cavanaugh, Bob Jury and Tom Brzoza), which was the most by any team in the country.

In addition, eight Pitt gridders were chosen in the NFL draft — tied with Notre Dame for the highest number of any college team.

With such heavy losses by graduation, Sherrill had a rebuilding job to do. And it was a young team in 1978 that registered an 8-4 record and accepted a Tangerine Bowl bid (losing to North Carolina State 30-17). The bowl trip was the fourth consecutive by a Pitt team and the fifth in six years. Hugh Green and Gordon Jones were selected first team All-Americas.

Pitt Hall of Fame Awardees

Thus far the University of Pittsburgh has had nine players, one coach and one player-coach elected to the National Hall of Fame. Jock Sutherland, a great guard from 1914 through 1917 and Pitt's brilliantly successful coach from 1924 through 1938, was elected in 1953, being among the first coaches named.

In 1954 Bob Peck, Pitt's first All-American (center in 1915 and 1916), was elected as the first Pitt player to have his name placed on the honor roll.

In 1958, Marshall Goldberg, an All-American halfback in 1937 and an All-American fullback in 1938, was elected.

In 1965, George McLaren, an All-America fullback in 1917 and 1918, was elected.

In 1967, Herb Stein, an All-America center in 1921, was elected.

In 1970, Tom Davies, an All-America halfback in 1918 and 1920, was elected.

In 1971, Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach from 1904-1912, was elected.

In 1973, Hube Wagner, brilliant end and running back from 1910-1913, and Herb McCracken, back and lineman from 1918-20, were elected.

In 1975, Averell Daniell, All-America tackle in 1936, and Joe Skladany, All-America end in 1932 and 1933, were elected.

In 1979, Joe Donchess, All-America end in 1929, was elected.

Jock Sutherland

Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland was a great player and coach at Pitt.

Entering Pitt within a few years after he left his native Scotland, he was a regular guard on the great Pitt teams of 1914-1917 — teams that lost but one game during the entire period.

Upon graduation, with a dental degree in 1918, he went into the service, coached the Camp Greenleaf Team with the AEF, then came back to the coaching job at Lafayette. Four years later, in 1924, he replaced Pop Warner at Pitt, and after getting the foundation laid, put the Panthers back into the first line again.

There were national titles in 1927, 1929, 1936 and 1937; Eastern honors in 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Rose Bowl appearances in 1928, 1930 and 1933, climaxed with a win in 1937. All-Americans were turned out with regularity during this period.

Leaving Pitt in 1939, he coached Brooklyn in 1940 and 1941, then went into the Navy. Upon his return he took over the Pittsburgh Steelers, giving them their greatest days until recent history. He died suddenly in the Spring of 1948.

Bob Peck

Bob Peck was Pitt's initial first team All-America, being selected by Walter Camp in 1915 and 1916. In both of these years Pitt was undefeated, and in his sophomore year, 1914, the Panthers lost only one game.

He was captain of the 1916 Pitt team that is rated among the greatest of all time, both at Pitt and in the nation. Playing under Pop Warner, Pitt's coach during his last two years, he was a terrific roving center of the old variety, and an accurate passing center who could lead the speedy Pitt backs on the famous single and double wing attack which Warner was then perfecting.

After his graduation he moved to Culver Military Academy where he was athletic director and head coach until his sudden death in 1934.

Marshall Goldberg

Marshall Goldberg came to Pitt from Elkins, West Virginia, and for the three years of his varsity career was the most highly publicized and popular back in Pitt history until Tony Dorsett came along.

These three years, coincidental with Jock Sutherland's last three as Pitt's head coach, saw the Panthers win a national title, a Rose Bowl game, and two eastern championships.

In two years as the regular left halfback Goldberg was the leading scorer and leading ground gainer, and then, moving to fullback with the famous Dream Backfield of 1938, he became a terrific blocker and power back, despite his relative lack of weight (185). He was a defensive expert during his three years and starred at this phase when he went into pro ball.

On campus he was a member of Phi Epsilon Pi, national social fraternity, and ODK, national honorary leadership society.

Upon graduation he played pro ball and was in the insurance business in Chicago, served nearly four years as a line officer in the Navy, and then finished his pro career with the Chicago Cardinals when they won their first title. He is owner of Marshall Goldberg Machine Tools, Ltd., of Rosemont, IL.

George McLaren

George McLaren, who came to Pitt from Peabody High School, is considered the greatest fullback in the school's history.

He played four years, 1915-1918, and during this period, the Panthers compiled a 29-0 record. McLaren was captain of the 1918 team. McLaren scored 13 touchdowns in 1917 and also holds the one-season rushing mark by a Pitt fullback with 782 yards. He also holds the longest run from scrimmage, 92 yards in 1917. He was never stopped without making a gain during his intercollegiate career.

McLaren also was a member of the basketball team for two years and a performer on the track squad for two campaigns. He was elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

McLaren resided in the Baltimore area before his death in 1965.

Herb Stein

Herb Stein came to Pitt from Warren, Ohio, and for four years was one of the greatest offensive and defensive centers in Panther history.

A member of the great "Pop" Warner teams in 1918-21, he was named as a first-team All-American in 1921. During his four years, Pitt won 21, lost five and tied four. His brother, Russ, was also an All-American tackle at Washington & Jefferson.

Now a highly successful business executive, Stein owns and operates nine corporations. He resides in Cleveland.

Tom Davies

A two-time All-American halfback, Tom Davies ranks as one of Pitt's greatest backs. After prepping at Kiski, Davies entered Pitt in 1918 and was named on the last Walter Camp's All-America team as a freshman under Glenn Scobie (Pop) Warner. Davies was a regular for four seasons and was again named All-America in 1920. He holds three Pitt punt return records and ranks second in the all-time total yards gained department with 3,931 yards.

Following graduation from Pitt, Tom spent 25 years as a coach at Penn, Geneva, Allegheny, Rochester, Kiski, Scranton and Western Reserve.

Davies died three years ago.

Joe Thompson

The late Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach at Pitt from 1904-1912, was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1971. A native of Beaver Falls, Pa., Thompson came to Pitt in 1904 (after attending Geneva) and led the Panthers to their first undefeated season. In compiling a 10-0 record, Pitt gave up only five points to opponents. He captained the team in 1905 and in his three years the Panthers achieved an excellent 26-6 mark.

After taking over the coaching chores in 1908, Thompson compiled a four-year record of 30-14-2. His 1910 team was not only undefeated (9-0) but also unscored upon.

Hube Wagner

Hube Wagner came to Pitt from Monaca High School in 1910 and immediately became a member of the great Panther team which went undefeated, untied and unscored upon. While primarily an end, he filled in at every other position except quarterback because of his great versatility.

When old timers talk of all-time Pitt greats Wagner's name always comes early in the conversations. Competing against such opponents as Notre Dame, Penn State, the famous Carlisle Indians, Navy, Cornell, West Virginia, Bucknell, etc., he was sensational because of wild tackling and his powerful ball carrying. He never, however, made the Walter Camp All-America team because that famous selector did not see Pitt play until 1915.

Since graduation, he has become an outstanding surgeon and for 12 years was a member of the University Board of Trustees. He was also elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Wagner died this past year.

Herb McCracken

Herb McCracken, a native of Sewickley, was one of the most versatile and also one of the lightest football players in Pitt history. He made up in football instinct and desire for any lack of size, and those same attributes made him a successful coach.

He was a varsity player under Pop Warner from 1918-20, participating at halfback, fullback, guard, end and center. He also played three years of basketball, captaining the team his senior year.

He went on to achieve outstanding coaching records at Allegheny College and Lafayette. Herb left coaching in 1935 to co-found Scholastic Magazine, Inc. He has served as a trustee of both Pitt and Lafayette. He is a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Ave Daniell

Averell Daniell, a member of the football team from 1934-36, captained the 1936 Pitt Rose Bowl championship team and was a consensus All-America standout on the line that was regarded as the best forward wall in Pitt history.

He then went on to play professionally with the Green Bay Packers. Following that he was a line coach at Dartmouth and at West Point before entering the Navy in WWII.

Following the War, he entered business and worked his way up to Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Alloy Manufacturing Company, a supplier to the Navy's nuclear propulsion program. That company later merged with Ionics, Inc., and Daniell now serves as its President.

A graduate of Mt. Lebanon High School, Ave majored in business administration at Pitt. He has been very active in the recent resurgence of Pitt athletics, and served as President of the Pitt Golden Panthers in 1974.

Joe Skladany

Joe Skladany was credited with helping Jock Sutherland build a great winning tradition at Pitt and earned first team All-America honors in 1933 and' 1934. He played both offensive and defensive end.

At 205 pounds, Skladany played the strong side on the Panthers' unbalanced offensive line and anchored the defensive line from his defensive end position. With Joe leading the way, the 1933 defense allowed a mere two touchdowns en route to an 8-1 record. During his stay at Pitt, the Panthers posted a 24-3-2 record.

Skladany was elected to the Pioneer Division of the Hall of Fame, the section reserved for athletes who starred before 1934.

Following his college career, Skladany went on to become principal owner of the Pittsburgh Paperback Corporation. Prior to his death three years ago, Joe was quite active in Pittsburgh's community affairs.

Pitt Ranks 5th in National Championships

Elusive. Cantankerous. Agonizing. Dreadful. Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe that holiest of grails in college football — the search for No. 1.

To settle countless arguments Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), The Football Thesaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhous System (1934-1970), the Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

In all of college football, only 42 different schools have claimed a national championship, and only 28 have managed to win two national titles. As shown below the University of Pittsburgh is 5th to properly rank as one of the nation's all time great football names.

Here are the top Pitt ground gainers and scorers since 1914. They traveled far in picking-up yards from scrimmage, passing, kick returns, and interceptions, and they put a lot of markers on the Pitt side of the scoreboard.

This is Pittsburgh . . . The University of Pittsburgh

Just about 200 years ago, both the City of Pittsburgh and the University of Pittsburgh were in a state of infancy. Through the years, they have simultaneously grown tall; together, hand in hand, they have been dependent upon, and complementary to, each other.

That's quite a relationship the city and the university have nurtured in their respective developments.

Take note. The University of Pittsburgh was first chartered in 1787 as Pittsburgh Academy. Less than 50 enrollees comprised the student body. In 1789, Pittsburgh's official population was listed at less than 500.

My, they've come a long way from those humble beginnings.

Today, Pittsburgh houses controlling interests of over $30 billion in assets. Of the top 500 corporate headquarters in the country, Pittsburgh is home to 14 — ranking third nationally behind only New York and Chicago. Of the top 1,000 corporate headquarters in the land, Pittsburgh houses 25.

Pittsburgh is the hub around which the economy of the northeast quadrant of the United States revolves. Geographically, Pittsburgh is 370 miles from New York, 454 miles from Chicago, 220 miles from Buffalo, 125 miles from Cleveland and 231 miles from Washington DC. Pittsburgh is also the 10th largest media outlet center in the country.

Pittsburgh is a big-time city.

As the city evolved to its present stature, so did the university. In fact, the university played a vital role in that evolvement. With industry hungering for qualified personnel to fill its needs, the University fed, and continues to feed, thousands upon thousands of technical and professional degrees into its blood stream. Pitt has championed the city academically from the very beginning.

Today, employers continue to call on Pitt graduates for professional services — medicine, dentistry, nursing, legal counseling, and business. The Pitt diploma continues to be recognized, respected . . . and called upon.

The University of Pittsburgh has kept step with the city. Recently, Pitt reached an academic milestone, being elected a member of the Association of American Universities — an elite group of just over 50 universities. Pitt can be proud of this distinction, because it has met the major requirement for selection — academic excellence.

And, amazingly enough, Pitt is the second largest employer in the city with over 6,000 full-time staff members, including 2,100 full-time faculty members, 550 part-time faculty members and more than 1,500 part-time technical and professional personnel.

Pitt is a big-time University.

In 1819 Pittsburgh Academy became Western University of Pennsylvania, a one-building structure on Third Avenue and Cherry Street, Downtown.

In March, 1921, Chancellor John G. Bowman told banker Richard B. Mellon, "The Cathedral of Learning is not a commonplace idea. But what is the future of Pittsburgh if it is to grow with commonplace ideas and commonplace loyalties?"

Mellon bought the thought and financed the building of the Cathedral of Learning, a 42-story Gothic skyscraper which serves as the centerpiece of the University's physical makeup.

In 1926, Bowman announced the building plan that today is The Cathedral of Learning.

"We want a building that is symbolic of education's higher aspirations — one that has eternal reach for both education and the entire community," Bowman proclaimed.

The Cathedral of Learning remains unique today, towering against the graceful Oakland skyline. It has fulfilled the prophecy Bowman first set forth back in 1926.

The Cathedral of Learning

And it has continued to inspire.

Philip Johnson, perhaps the most celebrated of contemporary architects, is centering the city's Renaissance II movement around the Gothic style of the Cathedral of Learning. Johnson calls the Cathedral "the greatest neo-Gothic structure in the country."

He is using the same medieval guild-house architectural flavor of the Cathedral in the building of the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass center in Downtown Pittsburgh.

All along, Pitt has perpetuated a long and illustrious sports tradition, too. Pitt ranks fifth in National football championships won — according to Sports Illustrated — with nine. It has placed many feathers in the city's sports cap through the years, feeding fuel to the city's front-running sports image. It has provided city sports fans with top-notch college football teams. As recently as three years ago, Pitt brought the football National Championship back to Pittsburgh.

But the University of Pittsburgh is an 'institute of higher learning' first, and undergraduates can take an active interest in varied fields of study. Pitt even has a self-designed major for specialization areas. Postgraduates and practicing professionals find a wealth of avenues to pursue higher quality education. The Health Professions schools — medical, dental, and pharmacy — are world-renowned. The law department ranks among the nation's best.

The University also serves as the city's cultural center. Within a 15-minute radius of the University there are six museums and art galleries, ten hospitals, and over a dozen other colleges and universities, not to mention one of the finest symphony orchestras in the country.

In a countryside setting of rolling hills, picturesque valleys, rivers and streams, both the City of Pittsburgh and the University of Pittsburgh continue to thrive as big-time institutions.

Memo to Press-Radio-TV

This brochure has been prepared for the members of the working press, radio and television who have so ably covered the Pitt athletic scene in past years. We are appreciative of their interest and attention, and it is hoped this brochure will assist them in their coverage of the Pitt football team.
